

Congress of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Nurses and Midwives (CATSINaM) and NSW Rural Doctors Network (RDN) Bursaries

About the Bursaries

The Rural Doctor's Network (RDN) are committed to working with the Indigenous health workforce to support and encourage the development of the next generation of Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander health professionals. These bursaries have been created to support under-grad health student members in NSW during the COVID-19 crisis as part of the RDN's COVID-19 response plan. CATSINaM and RDN have partnered to deliver these bursary funds to NSW under-grad student members who are in need of financial relief as a result of current study & work restrictions.

Terms and Conditions

- Funding is available to under-grad CATSINaM student members studying nursing or midwifery in NSW
- Bursaries are paid as a reimbursement to the individual and will not be paid on a cash basis
- The maximum bursary amount per successful applicant will be $500.
- The bursaries are for reimbursement of funds spent on the following:
 - Internet data
 - Study materials
 - Making home study environment safer

How to Apply

Complete the attached application form and submit to CATSINaM via catsinam@catsinam.org.au with the following supporting documentation:

- Photographed or scanned receipts up to the value of $500
- Evidence of residence or study in NSW
- Current enrolment information

Applications close 30th of November 2020

